The Joy Factory Rolls Out First Product in aXtion Extreme Series Designed for Hazardous Work Environments

IRVINE, Calif., Jan. 26, 2021 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) -- The Joy Factory, Inc., a global manufacturer of leading tablet mounting, cases, enclosures, kiosks and mobility accessory products, recently launched the first product in its aXtion Extreme Series - a heavy-duty enclosure for iPads. It's the first and highest-end product in this series and is designed to work in the most extreme work environments including oil, gas, mining, food and textile manufacturing and construction segments/verticals.

The aXtion Extreme case model CWA637MP-IS is compatible with iPad 10.2" 8th/7th generation and made for hazardous locations with Class I, Div. 2 and Class II, III Div. & Div. 2, Groups A - G certifications. It's military-grade materials ensure that its shockproof, waterproof and will protect against ignition.

While the final product does require an iPad, the assembly, installation and certification with the enclosure is included as part of the complete solution and is performed by an authorized installation center. There are also hands-free optional accessories such as shoulder straps and a harness with sun visor helps increase safety while offering maximum mobility.

"The aXtion Extreme Series is designed to provide users with high-quality products that will protect their investments, increase mobility and offer peace of mind," Miranda Su, executive vice president, says. "This first intrinsically-safe product in the series helps keep the mobile workforce in hazardous locations connected, wherever they may be."
